

Benefit From Better Borderless Payments

Top ten reasons to join the Almond network

Cross-border payment services are essential for financial institutions that want to stay competitive. Unfortunately, while other aspects of banking have evolved, cross-border payments have remained the same — they're slow, expensive, and difficult to track.

At Almond, we use blockchain to empower financial institutions with a measurably better cross-border payment solution.

Here are the top ten reasons to join the Almond network:

1. Immediately expand payout network
2. Offer your customers a new service through improved functionality in your own applications
3. Save your customers money on fees
4. Enable money movement outside traditional banking hours
5. Limit FX volatility exposure and risk
6. No international float requirements
7. Give your treasuries more flexibility with near-instant settlement
8. No new compliance or reporting requirements
9. Seamless API integration to fit any organization in a matter of weeks
10. Highest standards of security, compliance and customer support
